DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Mikeska and Gimby.

Gimby teaches a vapor vent device using a float valve to allow vapor to escape and to contain liquid in a fuel tank. Mikeska teaches a vapor permeable material (washers 20) which prevents liquid from passing associated with a tank. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to substitute the vapor permeable material for the float valve device of Gimby to decrease costs and complexity of the vehicle.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 2-12 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

Art Unit: 3747

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Note the various fuel tank vents in the art.
